

BOLSHEVIKI DEMANDS THREATEN TO BRING WAR ON RUMANIA;
FORMER FRENCH PREMIER MIXED UP IN LUXBURG INTRIGUE

U. S. OFFICIALS OF STATE
FURNISHED MESSAGES THAT LED TO CAILLAUX'S ARREST

PARIS, Jan. 16.—A wireless message received from Rome today declares that documents found in the strong box of former Premier Caillaux shows that Caillaux planned to assume dictatorial powers if he was made premier of France, that he planned the arrest of President Poincaré, Premier Briand and other statesmen, that he planned assumption of military power, restraint of parliament and submitting peace to a vote of the people.

Two more arrests were made today of persons believed connected with Joseph Caillaux in his treason against France. They were Paul Comby, well known lawyer, deputy Loustalot of the chamber of deputies.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—That former Premier Caillaux of France, now under arrest was on intimate terms with the German ambassador at Buenos Aires and apparently in league more or less directly with Germany was indicated in telegrams from German Ambassador von Bernstorff sent from this city February 4, 1915—given out by the state department today.

The first of the messages warned against German praise of Caillaux because "he fears Paris and fate of Jaures;" a second message advised of Caillaux's departure from Buenos Aires and counseled that the Germans treat Caillaux courteously if they effected the "very desirable capture" of his vessel.

On June 6, 1917, the German censorship, it was shown, barred all reference to Caillaux in the German press, presumably to help protect him in his own country.

STATE DEPARTMENT
ISSUES CORRESPONDENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Evidence upon which the arrest of former Premier Caillaux of France was based, was furnished to France by the state department on the strength of messages which former German Ambassador Bernstorff sent his government, the state department officially revealed today. The correspondence was made public.

The statement issued by the department said:

"The department of state communicated to the press the following telegram sent by Count Bernstorff, to his government, on February 4, 1915:

"No. 178. Buenos Aires telegraphed the following:

"No. 21. Caillaux has left Buenos Aires after a short stay and is going direct to France evidently on account of the (group undecipherable) scandal which he regards as a personal attack upon himself. He speaks contemptuously of the president and the rest of the French government with the exception of Briand. He sees through the policy of England perfectly. He does not anticipate the complete overthrow of France. He sees in the war now a struggle for existence on the part of England. Although he spoke much of the 'indifference and clumsy policy' of the Wilhelmstrasse and professed to believe in German atrocities, he has in essential hardly changed his political orientation."

Seeks Quiet Praise

"Caillaux welcomes indirect courtesies from me, but emphasized the extreme caution which he is obliged to show as the French government, he said, had watched him even here. He warned us against the excessive praise bestowed upon him by our papers, especially the Neue Freie Presse and desired on the other hand, that the Mediterranean and Morocco agreement should be adversely criticized.

"Our praise injures his position in France. Caillaux's reception here was cool. His report about Brazil had nothing new. On his return to France, he will, to begin with, reside in his constituency. He fears Paris and the fate of Jaures.

(Signed) "BERNSTORFF."

"No. 202. Naval attaché to admiralty staff, Habana telegraphs:

"Tol. Rio De Janeiro telegraph January 30th. The captain is carrying important papers. Capture very desirable. Caillaux on board. In case of capture Caillaux should, in an unobtrusive way, be treated with courtesy and consideration. Can you inform our cruiser?"

(Signed) "BERNSTORFF."

Censorship Order

The German censorship order given the German press on June 6, 1917, said:

"For political reasons, it is urgently requested that nothing be written about the former French prime minister, Caillaux, and that his name be not mentioned under any circumstances."

Caillaux, long a storm center in French politics, was arrested in Paris as a result of the Bernstorff messages furnished by the state department. At the time, it was said incriminating evidence had been found against him also in the private vaults of an Italian bank.

Caillaux had been under fire for alleged assistance in propaganda work in Italy and was regarded as an intimate of Bolo Pasha, who dealt in big

5,000 Volunteers Start From Petrograd Amid Great Demonstration

PETROGRAD, Jan. 16.—The first 5,000 volunteers of the new Socialist army left for the front today, sped by one of the most enthusiastic demonstrations the city has seen in months.

Red flags lined the route of the parade and scores of bands played revolutionary music.

Ten thousand other volunteers for the new "army of democracy" are now enrolling in the Petrograd district alone.

The volunteers are responding to a special appeal to the people issued by the bolshevik government and by the Russian commander in chief, Ensign Krylenko.

BRITISH LABOR
PARTY AGREES
CO-OPERATION WITH RUSSIA

Believe Worker's Message
Greatest Move Taken
Against Militarism

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The British labor party's peace appeal to Russia and Germany was regarded in many quarters today as one of the most compelling and significant moves undertaken in the political offensive against Teuton militarism.

It was considered a telling stroke by the most vital element now in any population—the labor group.

Sweeping aside the Russian thought that Britain has tended to abandon her, the appeal was regarded as showing a real fraternity between the labor of Britain and of Russia and of Germany.

It served, as experts saw it, to point out further the duplicity and treachery of the German Brest Litovsk negotiators while it held out the hope to Germany that she would regain her African colonies.

Will "See It Through"

Manifestly born of war weariness, the appeal, however, was regarded as showing a firm and loyal determination on the part of labor to "see it through" even to the point of national exhaustion.

Further, it cast on Germany the odium of further continuance of the war. Officials deemed it most significant that the labor party declared for self determination for India and Ireland, thereby shutting out any possible German or Russian answer that England was preaching what she did not practice.

British labor is at the root of recent war aims statements. That there has been growing discontent in labor quarters is known. And largely in response to the mutterings of that group, Lloyd George, followed by President Wilson, stated war aims clearly, eliminating for all time any claim that the allies are imperialistic.

Russians Will Tire

Between the British appeal and the Germans' brusque refusal to quit the Baltic provinces, the Russians, it is felt here, will eventually tire of bartering with the enemy.

Today's German report of settlement of Germany's internal political difficulties was regarded as a compromise. Hertling himself was a compromise and while he is given control of policy in the East, it was deemed significant that the militarists were unseated. Hindenburg or some other militarist complete controller of policy instead of dictator as to the West only. However, some authorities cautioned that Hertling's power in the East may have been granted only as a sop to liberal opinion opposed to the annexationist group.

Gen. Hoffman Attempted to Force Discontinuance of Question With Troops

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PETROGRAD, Jan. 16.—Arrogantly declaring he "did not represent any government but the German army," General Hoffman of the German peace delegation made violent efforts at Saturday's proceedings at Brest-Litovsk to force discontinuance of Russian socialist propaganda among German troops, according to official reports received today.

The information came in telegrams dispatched by the Russian conferees. The same reports told of agreement by German Foreign Minister von Kuhlmann to the Russian demand that a special commission formulate a plan of referendum by which people of a conquered territory might work out their own future. The adjournment of the peace meetings came after a rather heated discussion of the policy of Russian propaganda in Germany. The Russian delegates reported that General Hoffman injected into the proceedings again on Saturday his emphatic protest that Russian propaganda work in German ranks "violated the spirit of the Russo-German armistice and its purpose to achieve lasting peace," because "it aimed to carry on a revolution and a civil war in Germany."

German Papers In Russia

Replying, Russian Foreign Minister Trotsky, pointed out that German newspapers with their propaganda were freely granted entry into Russia. He outlined that some of these urged that the Czar be returned to Petrograd "while the bolsheviks should take his place in exile."

"I don't represent any government," Hoffman was quoted as declaring in reply. "I represent the German army. I won't discuss policies of the press."

"I am sorry for my inability to understand General Hoffman's position," Trotsky was quoted as replying. "It is only to be explained in the difference of our viewpoints as to the conditions of the armistice. In our belief it cannot limit the expression of opinions of the Russian republic or its government."

Should Not Interfere

At this juncture German Foreign Minister Kuhlmann interjected that "noninterference in the affairs of Russia was the basic principle of Germany's position, but this was continuous only provided the arrangement was mutual."

"Inasmuch as our government is deeply internationalistic, we would consider it a great step forward," Trotsky asserted, "if the Germans would consider it possible openly to discuss their opinion regarding the situation in Russia."

The discussion, the Russian delegates said, was halted at this point by Count Czernin's announcement that the order of business was terminated and the conference stood adjourned.

This was on Saturday. Previous to this particular discussion, the conferees were angled for some length on the question of self determination of peoples and of the necessity for German withdrawal from territories now occupied by her.

Kuhlmann and Trotsky Disagree

Foreign Minister Kuhlmann attempted to hurry up discussion of economics and trade between Russia and Germany. Trotsky held out against such a course, on the ground that such discussion was "premature" as long as the conferees were sharply divided on the chief points at issue.

He declared these barriers were Poland, Lithuania and Courland and German occupation of those territories.

Kuhlmann replied that Germany "desired not to lose time."

"I am certain that peace will be concluded," he added.

Kuhlmann acquiesced in the Russian demand that a special commission formulate a plan of referendum by which conquered territory might work out its self determination. He permitted addition of Armenia to this list of territories declaring "this will not be any serious obstacle."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The U. S. chamber of commerce by a vote of its 500,000 membership today demanded creation of a central control in the war government.

Interference with vitally important programs, production, inflation, inability to meet allied demands, duplication of work, confusion, in fact, "inevitable disaster" will result, the chamber announced today, "unless prompt provision is made to centralize the control of the industrial energy and material resources of the country."

The declaration of the chamber, based on months of investigation by a special war committee of prominent business men and manufacturers was unanimously approved by the directors in session here today.

ULTIMATUM

RUSSIANS

Release of Officers Held In Prison Must Be Made
Without Delay

PETROGRAD, Jan. 16.—War on Rumania unless that little nation, within twenty-four hours, releases Russian officers held by her, was threatened in an ultimatum served by the bolshevik government today.

The exact number of Russian army officers who were recently arrested by Rumanian authorities is not known.

The Russian ultimatum declared: "We are informed that Rumanians surrounded and disarmed the 194th and 49th Russian regiments and arrested a committee of the 195th regiment, also visiting Austrian officers.

"Failure to release these persons and failure to punish those responsible within twenty-four hours will result in our considering relations ruptured and in taking the most energetic military measures."

Relations between Russia and Rumania have been growing increasingly tense during the last few weeks. Apparently the break started when the Russian general peace fanaticism swept over all the northern frontiers. The Rumanians, ejected from nine-tenths of their little nation, wanted to keep fighting the invader to the bitter end, but they were literally forced into joining in the armistice since Russian troops on either side of their armies refused to fight.

Recently the Rumanian minister to Petrograd, M. Diamandis, was arrested by the bolshevik leaders. Today's United Press dispatches said he was only released from close confinement in the fortress of St. Peter and Paul after formal joint representations by the entire diplomatic corps.

Action Comes In Answer to Appeal From Allies There
For Protection

BY RALPH H. TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

TOKIO, Jan. 16.—Japanese warships have been dispatched to Vladivostok for protection of allied interests there, according to official announcement today. The action follows long continued appeals from Japanese and other citizens in the Russian port for adequate protection not only to their own lives and property but to great quantities of allied munitions and supplies there.

Desultory fighting between the bolsheviks and cossacks has been in progress in and around the city for weeks.

Congestion on the Trans-Siberian railroad and general demoralization of transportation incident to the internal difficulties in Russia is reported to have resulted in unprecedented tying up of supplies at Vladivostok. The bolsheviks have been making desperate efforts to commandeer this material, much of which had been ordered by the old monarchist regime.

A member of the naval staff, in an interview today declared that communication with Vladivostok had been almost cut off. This, it is presumed, hastened the orders sending warships. Protection of allied interests in Siberia, he said, is Japan's responsibility while the other allies are fighting the battles in Europe.

No Japanese troops will be moved to Siberia for the present, he said.

TRADE PROBLEMS
FACING JAPAN
DISCUSSED

By RALPH H. TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

TOKIO, Cal., Jan. 16.—Serious post-bellum problems for Japan are seen by Japanese newspapers in commenting on President Wilson's recent war aims address to congress. All of the publications emphasize the President's reference to a proposed removal of economic barriers when the fighting is done. In the principle of restriction of armaments and self-determination of colonies the press sees effects which might prove serious to Japan.

The Chuang Shogye Shimpoo, Tokio's leading commercial daily, declares America may wish to establish the principle of free trade for all nations after the war.

The Nichi Nichi says:

"If trade conditions are equalized after the war, the resolutions of the Paris conference will become a scrap of paper."

Time Ripe for Peace

The paper warns the people of Japan not to place too great reliance on the future of Japanese trade. It doubts that the enemies of the allies can be crushed and, while predicting a separate peace between Russia and the central powers, declares the indications are that the time is ripe for a general peace.

The Jiji Shimpoo and the Asahi Shimbun both praise the president's speech. The Jiji declares the allies' position is now clear to the world. President Wilson went a step farther than Lloyd George, it says, and contradicted the entente policy regarding trade as set forth in the Paris conference. It expects closer Anglo-American cooperation henceforth in bringing about a victory.

The Asahi, commenting on the speech, criticizes the Japanese policy of secrecy in negotiations of treaties and urges the government to adopt an attitude of greater frankness and to give Japan's views freely to the world.

DANIEL WILLARD
RESIGNS FROM WAR BOARD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Chairman Daniel Willard of the War Industries Board has resigned his post. President Wilson will accept the resignation, it was officially announced today.

While the reason officially given for Willard's resignation is that his presidency of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad demands his entire attention during the present railroad transformation under government control, his friends declare Willard was discouraged with the manner in which war work was being conducted.

He requested his release as chairman of the War Industries Board shortly after testifying before the Senate Military Committee that lack of preparation delayed the government's war work early after the war with Germany began and lack of coordination in the war government had delayed the work since. He favored a directing head with full responsibility in supplying the army and navy.

Men Fail to Agree Upon Time to Close Their Shops;
Put Upon Honor

Local grocers and butchers, composing the greater portion of a mass meeting of merchants held last night, failed to come to definite terms regarding closing hours.

The meeting of the local merchants was called by the War Committee, and was held in the city hall. Closing hours was the question up for settlement last night, and after much discussion balloting resulted in the selection of 6 o'clock on week nights and 9 o'clock on Saturday nights as the time to shut up shop.

A number of men present, however, were not satisfied with the hours selected, some declaring for 6:30 and 9:30, and when the decision was finally reached the matter was left to the honor of the merchants to close at the hours specified.

LOVE FOR MUSICIAN
LEAD TO DOWNFALL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The love of Walter Sporemann, alleged German agent for a pretty, talented girl musician in a local hotel, led to his arrest in the Hampton Roads naval district.

That girl—May Stoops, who says she is American through and through—said today she had warned Sporemann against working around army camps, because as he was a German, it might be dangerous for him.

Letters which Sporemann sent the girl were stopped in transit and inspected by the prying eyes of government officials. In this way they kept track of him, arrested him near Newport News, Va., and now have him safely in custody at Baltimore.

The girl musician is not regarded as in any way connected with Sporemann's alleged spy work.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—If you have a white mouse in your home the army can use him. He is needed for pneumonia tests at army camps, and is useful in the trenches to detect gas attacks.

PLANT ACREAGE TO BE BISHOP'S ADVICE TO GROWERS

Food Administration Agreement to Appoint Commission Is Satisfactory

Santa Ana, Cal., Jan. 16, 1917.

Food Administration, care Wm. E. Lamb, Washington, D. C.: Creation of commission of five vested with power to take testimony of growers, make finding of proper price to be paid by factors based on cost of production, plus fair profits, as proposed by you, is proper thing to be done and in line with our understanding. We are entirely free from domination or influence of either side, and of such approved integrity and magnitude of standing in community as will convince public mind that their finding is worthy public credence and of acceptance by growers. Growers ready to submit their side controversy and receive judgment of commission and will put forth every effort and in good faith seek to negotiate with factories a contract based on price fixed by commission, and to plant and raise this crop of beets.

BISHOP.

The above telegram was sent to Judge Lamb at Washington today by Attorney Clyde Bishop in answer to the message received here yesterday. Bishop will call a meeting of the directors of the Associated Beet Growers to be held here next Saturday.

"Beet growers could not now justify an arbitrary refusal to plant beets, for I went to Washington with absolute authority to enter into an agreement with the food administration as their representative, and I will insist that members of the Associated Beet Growers of Southern California proceed to plant their crops just as soon as a commission is appointed."

This statement from Attorney Clyde Bishop this morning clears the situation here as regards the sugar beet situation, and was made as a result of the telegram received yesterday from Judge Lamb advising that a commission of disinterested men would be appointed at once to investigate the cost of production of beets in California.

The plan is entirely satisfactory to the growers represented by Bishop, and Lamb was so advised in a telegram forwarded today by Bishop. Lamb was urged to appoint the commission without further delay. In Bishop's opinion the commission should gather data and be able to report its findings within two or three weeks.

"I realize that this commission will not have powers sufficient to call refiners before it, nor to compel the refiners to accept the price it may establish as fair compensation to growers for their labor and investment," said Bishop. "Public opinion, I believe, will bring the refiners to acceptance of the price established by the commission."

"While I have as yet worked out no definite plan of developing the cost of production, in a general way it will be along the line of investment plus interest, etc. For the refiner we will take the rent he pays, and add to it the cost of equipment, cost of cultivation and raising, interest on the money invested in equipment, depreciation on equipment and 7 per cent interest on the working capital. As to profit, we will figure this at about 18 per cent on the cost of production. Some refiners pay cash and some give a portion of the crop. The average crop rent is 7-24ths. The average cash rent is $29 per acre.

"In estimating the owner-grower cost we will take the assessed valuation of his land and multiply it by two as representing his investment in land. To this we will add—per cent interest and taxes, in addition to the cost of equipment, superintendency, equipment, cultivation, raising, seed, depreciation on equipment, 7 per cent interest on capital invested in this way, and 18 per cent interest on the cost of production as the profit the growers should have.

"The increased cost of labor, and inability to get the proper help, will be one of the most vexatious problems we will have to deal with. Particular stress will be laid on that situation.

"We will place no restrictions on the food administration as to the men it may appoint to the commission, except to exclude bankers. However, the commission must be composed of men big enough and of sufficient prominence in Southern California to at once convince the public that their findings, when made, were the result of an impartial hearing on the issue involved.

"I regard the confirmation of the agreement had in Washington, as contained in the telegram from Lamb yesterday, is all that the growers could ask for. They now will have opportunity to present their case to an unbiased commission who will, from facts, find and publish to the world what a fair price ought to be. They have had government recognition, and I believe they will receive from the refiners whatever the commission determines to be a fair price—that determination being based on testimony received through the summoning of growers to testify as to costs.

"As soon as the commission is appointed, I will recommend to the directors of the Associated Beet Growers of Southern California that a letter be sent to all members advising them of the entire matter and recommending that they carry out the agreement.

"I represent men who control 50,000 acres of beets and I will expect everyone of them to plant their full acreage."

Whitley Wires Hoover

R. E. Whitley, of Van Nuys, representing the San Fernando Valley beet growers, last night wired the food administration as follows:

The growers feel revised commission plan suggested in telegram from Judge Lamb January 14 would be a step in right direction, and urge all haste possible in appointing same. Situation is fast growing critical, as growers are buying seeds in many instances to plant other crops. Many of them, however, are willing and anxious to co-operate with United States Food Administration in helping to solve sugar shortage problem. If the appointed growers are ready to submit data and a fair price for beets could be recommended very quickly if no time was lost or no unnecessary delay permitted to put off this important matter. Thorough canvass of the situation shows it is impossible to bring growers to plant until a fair price for sugar beets has been negotiated between growers and factories, and the growers will do all in their power to further these negotiations. A few days' delay will be disastrous in many sections at this stage of the work, so that any extra effort you can put on rounding this into shape quickly will be a great benefit to beet-sugar industry throughout the United States.

Dr. Biederwolf got off his subject of dancing last night long enough to deal some red hot blows at sectarianism in the public schools. The question came up through the discussion of dancing in the high school. Dr. Biederwolf said that he understood dancing was being taught in the high school. He said that if he was mistaken he would take back what he had said, and he apologized, but if it was a fact he declared no school board had a right to put into the public school an indulgence against which there was so much public sentiment as exists against the dance.

As an illustration of what he meant the evangelist cited the high school of Long Beach in which he stated that a number of the school board are Christian Scientists. He said that in the study of journalism in the high school there, the Christian Science Monitor was used as the basis of the teaching. He declared that the Christian Science Monitor was one of the best daily newspapers he knew of, but that he had never seen a copy yet which did not come place within its pages contain an article regarding Christian Science. He declared that the public school was no place for such teaching. "If William Howard Taft should come to Santa Ana, I would want your school board to give him an opportunity to speak to the students, but not on the subject of Unitarianism. If a great Catholic priest should come, one who was an educator and knew other things besides his religious teachings, he should be given a hearing, but not in a discussion of Catholicism. If a preacher comes along who has a message along educational or character building lines, he should be given a hearing, but he should not preach protestantism. The public school is no place for sectarian teaching, and in the same way do not allow Christian Science to be injected into the schools."

A large number of funerals occurred last night at the Biederwolf Tabernacle. The evangelist led in the ceremonies, and hundreds of people in the city participated. Following a strong sermon on the dance, Dr. Biederwolf asked his hearers to join him in burying some sin in their lives. "We are going to dig a grave and bury something in it and then erect a tombstone," said Dr. Biederwolf.

Everyone was asked to get out his handkerchief. Then in silent meditation each person was asked to select something in his life that he could purge out and make his living purer and cleaner. When this had been done each one was asked to imagine a grave dug and this thing buried in the grave. Then he asked everyone to raise his left hand, covered with his handkerchief, suggesting this as the tombstone over the grave, and while the hands were thus raised, everyone joined in singing the chorus of the Glory Song, waving their handkerchiefs in a Chautauqua salute, pledging themselves to cleaner living.

COALS OF FIRE ARE HEAPED ON HEAD OF THE BELGIAN

In Scathing Terms, Victor De Sutter's Claim For Exemption Is Denied

DR. BALL EXPLAINS AGRICULTURAL AIM

Ten Registrants Examined Last Night, One Failing to Appear Is Cited

Ten men with claims for exemption based upon agricultural interests were examined last night by Dr. C. D. Ball, member of the appeal draft board. In the examination Dr. Ball was assisted by Clyde Bishop, government attorney for the local exemption district.

Upon the head of Victor De Sutter coals of fire were heaped. In no uncertain terms he was told that his claim for exemption upon agricultural grounds was denied. He has a father, brothers and sisters in the hands of the Germans, and he wants to stay on his leased ranch here.

"I cannot, and will not lend myself to the crime of exempting you upon agricultural grounds," said Dr. Ball. "I understand that you were examined for the first army and were rejected upon a physical defect. If you are physically unfit to go, that is another matter, but you can't hide behind an agricultural claim."

De Sutter was one of the first men called in the draft. He got exemption because he is an alien. After that he took out his first papers of naturalization. Learning that the local board ordered him to appear for examination, he was discharged upon a physical defect. His questionnaires came back with a claim for exemption on the ground that he is growing beets and barley on a lease on the San Joaquin ranch near Delhi.

Last night De Sutter said he was 20 years old when he came to this country from Belgium seven years ago.

"When your country was invaded, why didn't you volunteer?" asked Dr. Ball.

"Well, I had my farming and I couldn't let everything go."

"When we are sending a million and a half men to help fight for your country and your family, why do you hide behind a claim like this?"

Again, De Sutter said he didn't want to let everything go.

Bishop asked him if he had tried to sell his lease, and he said he had not.

It was pointed out that De Sutter had paid $9 only in taxes, indicating that his loss, even if he had volunteered, could not have been great. He said his father, brothers and sisters are in the hands of the Germans in occupied territory, one brother a prisoner of war.

"Under those conditions, you are willing to stay!" exclaimed Bishop.

"If I was in your place I'd get there if I had to swim."

Declaring that he would not "lend himself to the crime" of exempting De Sutter, Dr. Ball notified De Sutter that his claim was denied.

Aim Is Explained

"The aim of considering agricultural claims," said Dr. Ball, "is to get the very best out of lands for the benefit of the military interests. When it is quite evident that a change in a foreman or a worker is not going to change the output, it is going beyond the spirit of the draft for us to give exemption."

Clarence Roth was told by Dr. Ball that Dr. Ball did not think the business in which Roth is engaged is a necessary industry to the carrying on of the war. Roth said that among other products his farm turns out irrigation pipe for surface irrigation.

Is Ready to Go

Ernest Boissier said that both he and his brother had put in agricultural claims, but that one of them was ready to go to war. Their father is not able to do much work. They have a big acreage at Yorba.

"I was among the last certified to go, and I was ready to go," said Boissier. Dr. Ball said that one of the two brothers would be held for service.

Dr. Ball took under advisement the case of A. L. Kubitz, who helps his father and brother-in-law in walnuts, oranges, beans and potato growing. Kubitz has a brother in the service.

The case of Julius E. Bergman was not settled, and probably will not be taken up again until after the physical examinations.

Under Advisement

The claim of Edwin Rosenbaum of San Juan Capistrano was held under advisement. In the first army draft he was given exemption. He is farming 505 acres that belong to his father. He has a brother in the service and he thinks another has also entered.

He said that one of his legs goes back on him occasionally on account of an old injury, and he did not like to dispose of his interests, go to the army only to be sent back to find the property he farmed in the hands of some other person who does not know the land as well as he.

James W. Rea of San Juan Capistrano, who has a brother in the army, was referred to the local exemption board for consideration of his claim for dependency of his parents. Attorney Bishop told him that the government does not consider English walnut growing an industry necessary to the carrying on of the war. Rea works in a walnut orchard.

Hinrichs Absent

John F. Hinrichs of Orange, who had been notified to appear, was not present. Orders were issued for a summons to be turned over to the sheriff for service for Hinrichs to appear next Monday evening.

No disposition was made of the appeal of Alfred Manderscheid, who owns sixty-six acres and raises sugar beets and beans, further than that Dr. Ball intimated that Manderscheid would be placed in Class 4.

Domingo Inguerre of El Toro, manager of a warehouse and employed in other activities upon the 22,000-acre Moulton ranch, explained the condition of the management of the ranch. The case was taken under advisement.

Merritt's Case

Franz L. Merritt of Greenville, said that he and his father are milking twenty-six cows. He said his father is not physically fit, yet on closer questioning it developed that his father is doing half the milking and attends to the business of the dairy. Merritt said he did not think anyone could be hired to take his place.

Bishop said he thought Merritt ought to be put in Class 1. Dr. Ball took the matter under advisement.

Randolph C. Patton of Orange, said he owns twenty-two acres and works land owned by his father, who is not strong. His father said he came to California for his health.

V. V. Tubbs and S. W. Nau, of the local exemption board, were present last night and assisted in the examination.

The cases heard by Dr. Ball last night are among the first sent to the appeal board by the local board. Other cases will be heard. Registrants will be given notices by mail of the time they are to appear.

Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed.

PHYSICAL TESTS AWAIT REPORT ON APPEALS

Examinations By Board Are Not to Be Held Till Class Complete

Under authority of an order issued by the adjutant general, the local exemption board is not going to hold physical examinations until the appeal board has reported upon all claimants who have been classified in Class 1 by the local board.

The appeal board has instructions to handle all Class 1 cases first, and the local board has been informed that reports will be received with dispatch.

So far fifty-two cases have been sent to the appeal board to be handled by it. Of those fifty-two most are agricultural claimants. They include all dependency claims also.

So far all questionnaires under order No. 1300 have been handled by the local board and have either been listed as finally classified or have been listed as upon appeal. The time for taking appeals has not yet gone by for men whose order numbers are over 1300.

Of the men with order numbers under 1300, there are 152 men listed in Class 1 as not making any claim for exemption, and there are 156 whose claims of exemption were turned down by the local board and who did not put in an appeal of any kind.

With the fifty-two who have appealed, there are 360 Class 1 men with order numbers under 1300.

No classifications were made yesterday.

Questionnaires have been returned undelivered by postmasters, with addresses as follows: Ignacio Garcia, El Toro; Tomas Salice, Satero Chavez, Esteban Zubelet, San Juan Capistrano; Olav G. Pederson, Santa Ana R. D. 7; Francisco Cardiel, Gypsum; Antonio Rodriguez, Irvine.

The name of Manfred Franzen has been taken from the list reported to the sheriff as having failed to file questionnaires. Franzen registered at Newport Beach. Yesterday he reported his address as changed to Santa Monica.

BOARD IS MAILING OUT NEW REGISTRANT CARD

FULLERTON, Jan. 16.—Final classification cards, known as Form 1007, are being mailed from the exemption board to registrants. These cards correspond in size and character to the registration cards given to registrants on June 5 and will take the place of the registration cards.

These cards must be kept and carried and shown to officers, federal, state, county or city, whenever demanded.

Monday was the last day for filing questionnaires and that for the ones whose questionnaires were mailed out on Saturday, the 15th.

Of course, there will be a few stragglers coming along because some have failed to get their questionnaires in time to answer within the stipulated seven days, but the majority to be filed, in fact practically all, have been filed. There are still a few out, but the time for them has been extended. They will be along in due time.

The board is up with the classifying of questionnaires and Chief Clerk Gobart has everything in shipshape at the headquarters in preparation for the physical examinations of all registrants which is to start within two or three days.

The local board has 138 questionnaires yet to be sent out. These go to the men who have been reported as delinquent; that is, those who failed to respond to the call for medical examination. But these questionnaires cannot be mailed as yet, because the board has no blanks on hand, and until they are received from Washington nothing can be done. Already some of these men have been inquiring for their questionnaires. But in every instance they were the men who did not know that they had been placed on the delinquent list.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

"RINGED WITH FOES"

Says a man who knows Germany: "This education of the German people that we are aiming at is all very well. But it will take a very long time to persuade them that the rest of the world is not bent on their destruction. Just consider this fact. Every German school child, for decades, has had drilled into him a lesson that goes like this: "What is Germany?" the child is asked. "And then comes the invariable answer, that has sounded in German schoolhouses billions of times: "Germany is the Fatherland, ringed about with foes." Every German now fighting—we might almost say every German now living—has had that drilled into him. We are dealing with a whole generation of Germans who have grown up in the implicit belief that every alien neighbor is their natural enemy, filled with ill-will and hatred and bent on Germany's destruction. It is this training that has given to the German race what psychologists sometimes call the 'mania of persecution'—the notion that every man's hand is against it.

"How are we going to get that delusion out of the German head?" It is certainly a Herculean task. Yet we must drive out the delusion before there can be peace in the world, or else give apparent proof of the delusion's reality by crushing Germany into helplessness. Never in history has there been so glaring an example of the power of education for good or evil. It is primarily this pernicious doctrine, so carefully inculcated, that has made the German people a pliant tool in the hands of the master criminals who have led the world-war, and that keeps the tool still serviceable. If the Germans had only been taught the truth! If little Hans and Gretchen and the rest, year after year, million after million, had been taught that other nations were made up of people pretty much like themselves, rather well-meaning, honest and fair; if they had been taught that there is naturally in men and women of all civilized races more good than evil, more generosity than selfishness, more kindness than cruelty; if they had learned that the human race on the whole is a pretty decent and humane race—then there would have been no war.

Let us not fail to profit in full measure from Germany's tragic error. Let us be sure our children learn that we ourselves have no natural or inevitable enemies. Let us teach them the great truth that what makes the world go round and moves men and nations and civilizations forward is not armed force or clever scheming, but simply the good will that exists in man.

MASTER OR SLAVE

President Wilson's food proclamation is a call to every American citizen to recognize the supreme necessity of self-discipline in time of war. We hear a lot about the discipline of the training camps and in the army. We approve it because we know it is vital to success. We see the baneful results of a failure of discipline on the Russian front and ardently every one hopes it may soon be restored. But the discipline of armies is not the only discipline of war. The need of it for the citizen at home is also pressing. None the less so because he must be his own drillmaster, because he is accompanied with none of the trappings of authority. Before any people can conquer another it must be able to conquer itself. Can America do it?

The food conservation campaign gives a chance to answer the question. Every individual should welcome the opportunity to answer it in the affirmative, not only for the good it may do the cause, but also for the good it may do him individually. It is a little test, but a real one. The man who can't give up meat one day a week must give up a part of his own self-respect. The man or woman who can't forego eating wheat bread once a week, particularly when plenty of substitutes are provided, is a spineless individual indeed. Heedless will have been thought of too much as the power to effect ex-

*** And we got to talking—About the times—We used to have—Back in Illinois—
*** And he asked me—Did I remember—This or that—And I'd ask him—If he remembered—Something else—
*** And I asked him—Did he remember—The time—When Brumbaugh's goat—Butted him off the bridge—
*** And he said—That wasn't—Half as funny—As the time—I made stunts—To see the ball game—
*** And it all came back—Just like yesterday—How I wanted—To see the ball game—And I was a poor kid—And didn't have—Any money—To pay my way—
*** And there was—A high board fence—Around the ball grounds—And some mean galoot—That didn't like boys—Had battered up—The cracks—
*** And there was no chance—To see the game—Without any money—Or any cracks—
*** So I went home—And got Dad's—Hammer and saw—And some nails—And I made a pair—Of tall stilts—
*** And I could see—Over the ballpark fence—And could see—The game—And nobody came out—And made me get down—
*** And I was doing—A lot of rooting—For my favorite team—And making more noise—Than anyone inside—
*** And other poor kids—That didn't have—Any money—Or any cracks—To look through—Came to where I was—Looking over the fence—
*** And I would tell them—How the game was going—And I'd root—For my team—And was having—A fine time—
*** And then it came—To an inning—With two men out—And bases full—With a tie to break—
*** And I told the kids—And they got excited—And two of them started—To climb my stilts—So they could—See the play—
*** And just when it got—To "one ball"—And "one strike"—And everybody—Was trying—To steal bases—
*** Just when—We were all keyed up—To a high pitch—The load got too heavy—And the stilts—Gave way—

The German PEOPLE Did Not Will the War

(Otto H. Kahn in an address entitled "Duty and Opportunity of the American of German Birth.")

War might perhaps have come then or at some other time, even if the Prussian rulers had not precipitated it. But the fact remains that it was the Imperial German Government which did declare war.

For having anticipated that "perhaps," and resolved it according to their own plans and wishes, for that, their initial crime, and for those which followed, the rulers of the German people will have to answer before the judgment stool of God and history. Upon them rests the blood-guilt for this dreadful catastrophe which has befallen the world.

A few days ago I read a poem addressed to Germany, of which these lines have remained in my memory:

"Oh, land of now, oh, land of then,
Dear God, the dreams, the dreams of men!
Enslaved, immersed in greed and hate,
Where are the things which made you great?"

Gentlemen, the things which made Germany great are not dead, and the world cannot afford to allow them to die. They belong to the imperishable assets of the human race.

They have passed, for the time being, alas, out of the keeping of the mass of the German people, whose immortal inheritance they were.

They are now in the keeping of that minority, not, perhaps, very great as yet, but growing steadily, of men in Germany itself from whose eyes the scales have begun to fall.

They are in the keeping of all the nations who appreciate and cherish and are determined to maintain those great and high things which the civilized world has attained through the toil, sacrifice and suffering of its best in the course of many centuries. And, above all, they are in the keeping of the fifteen or twenty millions of Americans of German descent.

As that great American of German birth, Carl Schurz, and many other brave and high-minded Germans—my own father, I am proud to say, among them—in 1848 stood in arms against Prussian oppression for liberal ideas and right and truth and freedom, so do we stand now.

In fighting for the cause of America as loyal Americans, we are fighting at the same time for the deliverance of the country of our birth from those unrighteous powers which held it enthralled and fed upon its soul.

AMUSEMENTS

Grand Opera House
Seldom has it been known that a dramatic play was the actual cause of the biggest musical fad known in years, but that is unquestionably true in the case of "The Bird of Paradise," which comes to the Grand Opera House tonight.

Seven years ago when "The Bird of Paradise" was first produced at the Belasco Theatre, Los Angeles by Oliver Morosco, Richard Tully, author, brought over from the islands five of the native singing boys. They were introduced in the play to give it the proper atmospheric effect.

Hawaiian singers and ukulele players were no novelty at that time in Los Angeles, San Francisco and other Pacific Coast cities accustomed as they were to visits of cosmopolitan crowds from everywhere. When Morosco produced the play in Los Angeles the native Hawaiians in the cast created no great excitement in that city.

However, when Mr. Morosco sent "The Bird of Paradise" to New York and later to Chicago a different story was reached. The eastern people began to grow fond of the dreamy, languorous music of the tropics. The cabarets, always alert for something new from the legitimate stage, grasped the idea eagerly.

Entertainment bureaus which supply talent for the restaurants and cafes, were deluged with rush orders for Hawaiian orchestras, singers and dancers.

The original five then sang and played for a well known phonograph company and once the records were placed on sale the fad grew to tremendous proportions.

THEFT OF CUSHIONS CHARGED TO JURORS; ACTION IS QUASHED

This noon the jury in Department No. 2 swiped the cushions from the seats in the jury box of Department No. 1, and got away with them. After the noon hour, when the jury in No. 1 returned its members found their seats cushionless. Deputy Sheriff Fowler located the cushions, but he could not persuade their surrender. He appealed to Deputy District Attorney Koepsel, who prepared a bench warrant, search warrant or some other kind of a warrant, which was signed by Judge Marsh of San Diego, who is sitting in Judge West's place in Department No. 1. Koepsel walked into Judge Thomas' courtroom and read the warrant, charging the jury with petty larceny of cushions.

Attorney H. J. Forgy suggested that the hearing of the case be set down for Saturday afternoon. Judge Thomas, however, disposed of the case forthwith.

"Take our compliments to the judge in Department No. 1," said he, "and tell him that this court has issued an order quashing the proceedings, and say further that it is confessed that the cushions were stolen, transported and are now well covered."

IN THE JUSTICE COURT HORSE SKINNER FOUND GUILTY

Man Charged With Responsibility For Odors Pays a Fine of $50
Eli P. Fay of Los Angeles, who owns a ranch at Cypress, was found guilty by jury of a charge of maintaining a nuisance, and Justice Cox fined him $50. The fine was paid.

Fay's defense was that a horse's carcass when cut up into pieces will dry up and will not pollute the atmosphere. He had among his witnesses to that effect Dr. G. W. Closson of Anaheim, county live stock inspector.

The jury, however, thought otherwise. At least, it concluded that the pieces of horse left in Fay's pasture did not dry up.

Deputy District Attorney Koepsel and Deputy Mention prosecuted Fay on a charge of maintaining a nuisance. Several witnesses testified that a terrific stench came from the field, and that dogs and coyotes fought for choice morsels. Dogs sometimes dragged home hunks of meat and took them under the house to eat.

Fay used the field as a dumping ground for carcasses from which the skins had been removed. He said each carcass was cut up with the expectation that it would dry and not smell.

SAYS IT'S ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF THE HARBOR PLANS
Coast Opportunities Are Real Help to Military Operations, Says Armitage
"The statement from the National Council of Defense urging that only that construction work that has a war advantage be carried ahead is a splendid argument for the immediate improvement of Newport Harbor," said J. A. Armitage today. "Improvement of coast industries is a big thing. What is the use of hauling iron ore and iron from San Bernardino county east, there to be made into material for ship-building, then have that material shipped back here to the ship-building plants? Why not through harbor industries do the whole thing right here? It would mean a tremendous saving in transportation."

WOMAN ADMITS GUILT AS SPY FOR GERMANY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—"The United States had no right to go against Germany. I want to see Germany win the war and I want to see the United States lose. I am not afraid to be shot and I am not afraid of anything that they may do to me."

With these words, Mrs. Elizabeth Guistorf, arrested at Hanford and brought here for examination as an alleged German spy, admitted spying activities dating since May, 1917, according to government agents today. They say she made a statement of her intelligence office. She refused to implicate anyone and did not reveal the source of letters regarding alleged spying activities, found in her possession. She declared she feigned insanity when examined at Hanford.

MAKE ESTIMATE OF DAMAGE BY P. E. STRIP

First of the Santa Ana-Tustin Right-of-way Cases on Trial Today
This morning the first of a number of condemnation suits brought by the Pacific Electric for a right of way for a line from Santa Ana through Tustin to Irvine went on trial before Judge Thomas and a jury, composed of S. A. Mosher, H. S. Barnes, Wm. Ulrich, J. T. Dilley, A. C. Curtice, J. P. Peralta and S. N. Fuller.

In this case the P. E. is asking for a strip across Charles D. Brown's ranch. The amount of land sought is .58 acres. Brown asks $540 for the land to be taken, $1,000 damages for effect of the presence of the railway upon the rest of the ranch and $500 for damage to his irrigation system.

Walter Eden appeared as attorney for the defendant, and Attorneys Frank Karr and H. J. Forgy represent the P. E. A number of well known Tustin men have been called as witnesses. At the beginning of the hearing the question of possible changes in the grade established by the P. E. was brought up, and it was declared by Karr and the judge that should the P. E. later change the grade, throw up an embankment, for instance, that would cause water, additional damages could be secured in a new action.

A. S. Bradford of Placentia, and F. B. Browning of Tustin, among the best known citrus growers in the county, were the first witnesses called by Attorney Eden for Brown.

Woman's Club Meets Yesterday, Hears Fine Program In Charge Mrs. Mills

Mrs. Anna Gale was hostess to the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon at her home on Spurgeon street, and a large attendance was a feature of the interesting occasion.

In the absence of both president and vice president, Mrs. I. D. Annis presided.

The ode and club collect opened the meeting, followed by the usual order of business.

An entertaining letter was read from Mrs. Charles Stanley, president of the club, in which was the announcement of the birth of a grandson, January 4, at Washington, D. C.

The corresponding secretary was instructed to convey love and congratulations of the club to her.

Mrs. Lucy Johnson was unanimously elected a member of the club and received a hearty welcome.

Mrs. Glasgow of Oceanside, was extended a vote of thanks for her appreciated presence.

The fine program was in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Mills and "Social Service" was the subject. She said "the Golden Rule includes everything that we, as women, are expected to do" and gave a short history of the social settlement work and of pioneer club workers, notably Caroline Severance.

War service was given in the following original lines:

We have worked and planned for our nation's weal;
In a service that all the world must feel,
For our boys whose hearts are strong as steel;
And ever and always will make a chance

To sew and knit for our boys in France.

Or give to send them an ambulance in service for them and all mankind. Our crusade for freedom in very land, Will never stop till peace is gained.

W. C. T. U. Medal Contest

The W. C. T. U. silver medal contest was held Monday night in the M. E. church at Orange.

The house was well filled when the seven little girls, ranging in ages from eleven to twelve, marched onto the platform. Emily Pierce of Orange, was the first speaker and then came Angela Maag and Eleanor Heitschusen of Olive, Esther Riffel, Maud Day and Winnifred Riddle of Orange and Eva Taylor of Santa Ana.

The entire program was rendered by the little girls, Maude Day favoring the audience with a piano solo. Eleanor Heitschusen, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. O. J. Lennartz, gave a vocal solo and responded to an encore, and Maude Day and Emily Pierce, accompanied by Miss Hazel Elliott, gave a vocal duet.

All the contestants did exceedingly well and were loudly applauded. Eva Taylor of Santa Ana, won the silver medal, presented to her by R. P. Mitchell, who gave an excellent but short address to the contestants.

Eleanor Heitschusen won second prize, a silver dollar, and Maude Day, honorable mention.

After the last speaker, the little girls sang a temperance song, after which the judges, Mr. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, Mr. Roberts, teacher of Santa Ana, and Mrs. L. M. Helmer, retired.

Then came the dainty little fairy-like flower girls, Katherine Hall and Martha Richardson, carrying generous floral offerings for each speaker.

While the judges were deciding on the winners, Eva Taylor gave a comic reading and encore.

The medal superintendent of W. C. T. U. is Mrs. Clifford Clark, an elocution teacher, who drilled the contestants.

Another contest may be arranged for the near future, also a program given by Mrs. Clark's pupils. The first seven pupils, ages twelve, whose names are sent in to Mrs. Clark will be the next contestants.

HERE'S A FIRST-CLASS SUGGESTION

Buy War Stamps With Your Liberty Bond Coupons

We publish a letter from Mr. Rogers and heartily indorse his patriotic common-sense suggestion

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER CO.
Fourteenth and H Streets
WASHINGTON, D. C.

December 21, 1917.

Mr. Arthur Brisbane,
Editor and Owner,
The Washington Times,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Brisbane:

I have read with interest and benefit editorial appearing in today's Times—"One Way for the Government to Raise Money."

I venture to offer a suggestion:

A very large number of Liberty bond owners have no immediate need for the interest on Liberty bonds. Personally I was undecided as to whether I should clip the coupons and cash them in or simply leave them attached to the bond, when the thought occurred to me that solved the matter, which was precisely this:

I clipped the coupons and took them to the Bank and purchased War Savings Stamps with the coupons. I told several of my friends of this and they immediately transferred their coupons into War Savings Stamps.

I firmly believe there are a very large number of Liberty bond owners who could, without inconvenience to themselves, exchange the coupons on their bonds as they become due, for War Savings Stamps and would be glad to do so.

CHARLES T. ROGERS,
Manager.

"BACK UP FRANCE AND DO IT NOW" SAYS PERSHING

—That was General Pershing's reply to the American Red Cross officials in France.

—"If you want to do anything for me, back up France, and do it now, do it quick, for God's sake."

—"Let Americans realize the plight before 'tis too late. France is now fighting continuously for 1260 days and nights, and in their fourth winter of abominable trench warfare."

—"Mark me—if they are not taken care of now, no one can tell what will become of us when the fighting in earnest begins next spring."

OUR GREAT DEBT TO FRANCE

And How We Can Pay It at Least in Part

When Gen. Washington's troops were starving and freezing at Valley Forge in the days of the sorest trials of the struggle of the American colonies for liberty, French food, French clothing, French money and loyal sons of France came to them unstintingly and were prime factors in winning that first victory for democracy and liberty, the American revolution. The time has now arrived when the citizens of the great American republic can repay the debt of gratitude which their great-grandfathers contracted almost a century and a half ago.

Under the French military system the men serving at the front are given at specified times furloughs of six days, which they are permitted to spend with their families. If the spirit of these men is not to be broken they must find their families moderately provided with the necessities of life. This is necessary to stimulate their courage and return them to the firing lines imbued with reinforced determination to make 1918 the year of victory.

And so we must not only send our men to fight for France; but we must lend France money, and send her food and clothing and implements; and the Red Cross must take care of her sick and wounded and of her widows and orphans.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Jan. 16.—Directors for ensuing year were elected at the annual meeting of the El Modena Improvement Association. They are: J. M. Brubaker, G. L. Carl, W. T. Chapman, D. E. Hill, A. C. W. T. Mason, Clate Stanfield, S. Stone and W. L. West.

On Saturday evening the board organized with G. L. Carlton as president, S. W. Stone, vice president and T. Chapman, secretary and treasurer.

At this meeting W. P. Read, principal of the El Modena school, gave an interesting talk on the entertainment of the El Modena school. The school already given two, the proceeds of which went to some patriotic cause, the future they plan to give more to have not only home talent but entertainers who will pay their own expenses and donate their time so the entire proceeds may be given to some patriotic society.

The directors voted that as many as possible would attend the Chamber Commerce meeting at Orange last night, although a meeting of the Bureau of El Modena held last night may prevent a number from attending.

As a farewell for Mr. and Mrs. Moomaw, who move to Perris next week to make their future home an alfalfa ranch near there, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Meehan charmingly entertained a number of friends at a delightful affair.

Early in the evening a "movie" was enjoyed at the Colonial theatre, from there the party motored to the ranch home of the Meehans, where a symphony orchestra and reading of several original witty poems were dedicated to the amusement of an exceedingly jolly evening, at a table prettily decorated with La France roses a delicious collation was served.

The guests presented to Mr. and Mrs. Moomaw a beautiful picture. A very quiet wedding at the parsonage of the Christian church united in marriage Miss Lahnna Hazel Atwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Yeatt of Orange to George Herleford Leonard. Mr. Leonard was formerly of Lordsburg and is now employed in one of the local packing houses.

Mr. W. G. Oram officiated at the wedding and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller attended the bridal couple.

Employees in the Santa Fe yards a busy busy time Tuesday, two loads of bees were being unloaded, bees were from New Mexico and recently they are accustomed to rearing raids of Mexican border bandits.

At least that was the attitude displayed. George J. Brown of Orange is the owner of the bees. There are 550 colonies of them in the lot and expects to locate them on the Ford ranch at El Modena. They were within a few feet of the high wire fence. Brown owns 15,000 colonies of bees at various places. Sunday the Ladies' Missionary society will hold an all day meeting at home of Mrs. R. W. Jones. The society is to meet at the church at 10 o'clock. Automobiles will take to the place of meeting. Lunches to be taken just as they are to the aid meeting. Sewing will occupy the forenoon. In the afternoon Wilson of Pasadena, a returned missionary from Persia, will speak.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Prices on the local vegetable market continue to move within narrow limits. Cauliflower was changed yesterday to 5 cents a dozen, or $1.85 a crate. Tomatoes are firm, with an especially strong demand from outside points for California stocks. Green beans and peas are very plentiful and prices for those two popular varieties of "greens" are liable to be advanced in the near future. In the fresh fruit list blueberries are slightly higher and other apples are showing a stronger tendency, although the remainder of the offerings have not been changed materially for the past three weeks. Bananas are temporarily cheaper, selling at 5 cents a pound, due to the fact that in the winter time the demand from consumers for bananas is always smaller.

Butter extras advanced to 52 cents a pound and yesterday afternoon's session of the Produce Exchange.

LAUNDRY PRICES DUE FOR BOOST RESULT OF NEW WAGE

Law Establishing Minimum Scale Became Effective on Monday Last

Laundry prices are due for a raise as the result of the wages established for laundry employees. The new schedule will mean an advance of 15 to 20 per cent in cost of operating laundries, and a new price list will have to be adjusted to meet this increased expense.

The new law became effective last Monday, and provides a minimum scale of $10 per week for experienced laundry workers. The industrial welfare commission at San Francisco has issued instructions that all laundries observe the new schedule.

The regulations provide that no experienced woman or minor shall be employed at a wage of less than $10 per week of forty-eight hours, and that "learners" shall be paid $8 per week for the first six months, $9 for the second six months and $9.50 for the last three months, a worker becoming classed as experienced when she has served fifteen months. "The new regulation will work a hardship on many women who today are engaged in laundry work and who are content with the wages they have been receiving," declared a local laundryman today. "It means that the management will have to eliminate all inefficient help and give preference to those only who are quick and efficient."

"We have a number of employees who are able to earn what we pay them, but who cannot earn the new wage, and we will have no alternative but to replace them with women who can earn what has been established by law as a legal wage for laundry workers."

Laundries are adjusting their business to the new order as rapidly as possible.

TO RECOMMEND TAKE BARNARD

Harbor Commission to Ask Supervisors to Accept Engineer's Offer

At a meeting of the Orange County Harbor Commission this morning it was decided that the commission recommend to the Board of Supervisors that it accept the offer made by Engineer Barnard for the drawing of detailed plans and specifications for the improvement of Newport Harbor. Some minor modifications are to be suggested, one being that if the bonds carry Barnard shall receive to pay during the period between the time of the election and the time of the sale of the bonds.

Barnard offers to draw the plans for $300 a month with a minimum employment of four months if the bonds fail and a minimum employment of two years if the bonds carry. These plans are to be detailed construction plans, being separate plans from the preliminary plans submitted by Capt. C. T. Leeds.

SLACKERS ON WAR INCOME TAX SHOULD BE REPORTED

W. A. Cornelius Addresses Business Men at Their Luncheon Today

That an attempt has been made by a Santa Ana party to "slip the net" on the income tax commission, was disclosed today at the merchants' luncheon at James' by W. A. Cornelius, revenue inspector, who is here temporarily to assist local people in making out their income tax reports for the year 1917. Cornelius has full knowledge of the attempt and unless the guilty party files an amended report before the 1st of March, federal officers will deal with him.

Cornelius made a splendid talk at the luncheon on a subject that is of the deepest interest to people of this community. He declared that most of the people are playing fair, and that there are many in this prosperous county who will be subject to the tax.

"The government force is insufficient to handle the big problem developing with the handling of the income tax," said Cornelius, "and I would ask that every business man assist the farmers and those who are familiar with bookkeeping in making out their reports, in order to save the income tax force the time it takes to do the work."

"The income tax is not an unjust tax, and it is the only way in which the burden of taxation can be equally distributed—it touches the rich man in proportion to his income and makes him pay his full share of the war expenses."

Should Report Slackers
"It is the duty of every one to report to the collector the name of anyone he knows who should file a report but has failed to do. Such slackers should be reported by their neighbors."

"It is the duty of every employer of help to file with the government the name of any employee to whom he has paid $800 or more in wages during the year. It is through this method that the department gets information on those who should make a report."

Cornelius dealt with various features of the law which have been fully explained in addresses by Internal Revenue Collector John P. Carter.

of Los Angeles, and which have been published in the papers. A number of business men in attendance at the luncheon asked questions on certain phases of the law, and in answering them the speaker gave a great deal of general information.

He related an instance of a lawyer making a report of having received $8,000 for his professional services and then charging off $2,500 to uncollectable debts. With this Cornelius impressed the point that the government is concerned only with the amount of income the individual has had during the year. In this instance the income was $8,000. The bad debts was not an expense in the operation of the professional business of the man and therefore could not be charged off on the report.

A man having $4000 invested in a business cannot deduct interest on that investment in making his returns. However, should he have a $4000 investment and has borrowed a part of the money, he can deduct whatever cash he has paid out in interest. Interest paid in cash, taxes, repairs, depreciation, labor cost sum up, in a general way what may legitimately be charged off in the reports.

Action was taken looking to the securing of better attendance at the luncheons, the purpose being to protect the caterer. If he provides for an attendance of 70 and only 40 attend, he has sustained a loss. It was voted that during the month of February, tickets be purchased for the four luncheons during that month at $2 per ticket. The ticket will be transferable, but if it is not used at any of the luncheons, the purchaser stands the loss, the caterer getting his full compensation for preparation of the meal for the one who fails to attend.

Mac O. Robbins was appointed as the chairman for next week.

Government Has Big Task

"It seems to me," said Cornelius, "that the Honorable Collector of Internal Revenue of the Sixth District of California covered the question of income tax so fully in his speech in this city a week ago that he left but little to be said. He showed you that the sum of money the United States has obligated itself to spend in the next six months was so vast that if it were reduced to one dollar bills and these bills placed edgewise the string would be longer than the distance across the United States and 150 miles out to sea."

"An illustration of the kind serves to bring to our minds in a comprehensible manner something of the enormity of the task the United States has set out to perform."

"This gigantic program has laid a heavy load upon the profits that are being made from every source in this country. The exemption from income tax has been lowered until a portion of the cost of the war of democracy is laid at the door of many a person who formerly considered income tax only one of the expensive luxuries of the rich."

"Those who criticize the income tax show only the fact that they are not familiar with the principles of taxation, because it is the most fair and just tax system ever devised by man. It is a tax that can never be a burden like county and city taxes on non-income producing property."

"Under the system of income tax one may own a dozen sections of land and a city block and still have no taxes to pay provided the property does not pay a certain amount more than it is costing you to maintain it. This certain amount is known as the specific exemption and guarantees that you can have an income of at least one thousand dollars and from that on up, depending on a number of circumstances, free from tax. Therefore if you have had no profits, you have no tax to pay, and if you have prospered abundantly, you can well afford to set aside a small part of it to uphold our national honor."

"To show you how badly this money is needed at once I have only to call your attention that our government for the first time is offering a discount on income tax bills of three per cent if paid in advance."

"Although one has a perfect right to defer payment of their income taxes until the 15th of June, I am glad to say that the people of Orange County have answered my requests for advance payments with open check books and smiling faces, and it will not be necessary for the office force to send out a single bill for the several hundred reports I have handled since being in your city."

"Doing Your Bit" Frivolous

"The work of those in charge of the income tax branch of the government has been made extra heavy on account of the increased number of people who come within the purview of the law, it being estimated that there are about fifteen times as many required to make reports as compared to those who filed returns a year ago."

"The law caught many people unprepared and they do not have complete records of their year's business."

"We have been unable to get a sufficiency of competent help and are obliged to appeal to those who are accustomed to keeping a record of business affairs to help us out."

"I do not like the English term in such general use of 'doing your bit.' It seems too frivolous under the circumstances and I think the good old American expression of 'doing your duty' would better express the meaning we wish to convey when we speak of helping Uncle Sam in the present crisis."

"It is impossible for us to know at this time whether people are filing correct tax returns. Most of them are, but there are those in every community who are neither patriotic nor loyal and it is not only your duty to render your own income tax returns but to see that the slacker and the skulker is forced to do so."

"Under general conditions people dislike to inform on any one else, but I can assure you that it is not a general condition that confronts us today and there is nothing of the stool pigeon about the man who assists the United States government in getting revenue that is morally and lawfully its due."

"Those who are true men have set their faces toward the light and are doing their solemn duty to help bring this gigantic world's war to a speedy and a successful termination."

"Those who are unappreciative of the blessings of living in this land of the free must be made to see their mistake and assist in the cause of humanity, and the avaricious must part with a portion of their tightly-
